Dear Parent/Guardian,

In an effort to provide better communication, a counseling newsletter will accompany all grade reports. The counseling newsletter will include important dates, scholarship information, ACT information, etc.

ACT Test Information

The ACT writing assessment is an optional test with an additional test fee. Not all colleges/universities require the writing exam. It is suggested that students research the admissions criteria for their desired post high school institution to know whether they should take this additional exam. Score reports are normally mailed within 4-7 weeks after the test date. If you take the ACT Plus Writing, your report will be mailed when all your scores, including Writing, are available.

Students that have qualified for school free or reduced lunch program can ask to have test fees waived. Qualifying students need to see Mrs. Almellen for a fee waiver form.

Students can find a full set of sample test questions, along with complete answer explanations, test-taking strategies, and detailed analyses of each section of the ACT Assessment - all in ACT's Student Site at www.actstudent.org. Other practice sites are: www.ihaveaplaniowa.gov, www.number2.com and www.march2success.com

ACT & Parents

College planning can be difficult, not only for students but for parents as well. For parents who need tips on sorting through the ins and outs of college planning, ACT offers www.actparent.org as an online guide to understanding the process. Parents can sign up on the website in order to receive an ACT parent newsletter.

I Applied...Now What?

Ok. So, you've applied to college and that's great, but what happens now?

Applying is one of the first steps on your path to attending to college. Keep in mind that it may take a couple of months for the college or university to get back to you. Here's a step-by-step guide for what to do in the meantime:

Once you've submitted your application, make sure that you've turned in everything you need in order for the college to consider you as a potential student. Have you:

- Submitted your application fee (if the college charges a fee)?
- Asked your high school counselor to send your transcript to the college?
- Submitted your letters of recommendation (if required by the college)?
- Submitted your essay (if required by the college)?
- Sent any college transcripts you might have (from dual-credit courses)?
- Sent your AP scores (if you have taken AP courses)?

Even after you're accepted to a college, there's still a lot of work to do to make your final decision and get ready. You'll want to consider what financial aid is available to you at the colleges you're considering, and you'll want to decide if you want to live on campus or commute. Of course, once you decide on a college, you'll need to register as a new student and enroll in classes.
